EXHIBIT A

Procedure upon the Filing of a Petition for Issuance of a Certificate of Good Conduct

1. Upon the filing of an application by the defendant, the Judge must review the application and the court file to ensure that the defendant meets the eligibility requirements as set forth in 730 ILCS 5/5-5.5-5.
    a. Of particular interest is the type of conviction the defendant pled to as certain crimes make the defendant ineligible for relief.
    b. If applicant meets eligibility requirements, proceed to step 2. If does not meet requirements, application is denied without further review or hearing.

2. Enter an order for a written investigation to be completed by the probation department, pursuant to 730 ILCS 5/5-5.5-l5(c). Upon submission to the court of the completed investigation, the matter is to be set for hearing.

3. Hearing (procedure is similar to that of sentencing hearing)
    a. State's Attorney may present any evidence/witnesses in opposition to the application, including objections to the defendant's eligibility as the court did not have the benefit of the investigation when making eligibility determination.
    b. The defendant may present any evidence/witnesses in support of the application.
    c. Parties allowed to make argument.
    d. Judge makes ruling and findings with regard to granting of said application.

4. Findings must include following:
    a. That the defendant does or does not meet the eligibility requirements for the requested relief;
    b. That the evidence supporting relief was or was not proven by clear and convincing evidence; and
    c. That it is or is not in the public interest to grant said application.

5. If the certificate is granted, then complete the form granting the certificate as supplied by the AOIC.

6. Note that a certificate can be revoked. It would be up to the State's Attorney to file a motion requesting revocation and a hearing held with regard thereto.
